Question 16.

In the sixteenth question, respondents indicated how the populations of their institutions is formed. For this question, respondents indicated the percentage of students from different regions that their institutions have.

Nineteen universities (52.78%) have between 80-100% of local students. Seventeen (54.84%) universities have between 0-5% of Latin American students (including students from The Caribbean). Sixteen (59.26%) universities have between 0-5% of the USA and Canada students. Fifteen (53.57%) universities have from 0-5% of European students. And fifteen (55.56%) universities have between 0-5% Asian students.

Source: CLADEA
Own Elaboration